

HEALTH, SAFETY, ENVIRONMENTAL, AND CONSUMER FINANCIAL RULES IN THE CROSSHAIRS: WHAT DROPPED OUT AND WHAT WAS ADDED? OBAMA'S FALL 2016 VERSUS TRUMP'S SPRING 2017 REGULATORY AGENDAS

Updated August 1, 2017

Methodology: To populate this chart comparing the Fall 2016 regulatory agenda to the Spring 2017 regulatory agenda, we included all rules in each agenda from the following agencies: the Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division and Occupational Safety and Health Administration, the Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Transportation's National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, the Food and Drug Administration, the Consumer Product Safety Commission, and the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau.

We have listed these rules in the order in which they appear in each agenda, and the rules are arranged by agency. Each rule listed is accompanied by a link to the rule's listing at the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs (OIRA), which includes an abstract for each rule. Clicking on each rule's rule identification number (RIN, the most reliable identification for a regulatory proposal) will trigger this link.

We searched the Federal Register for documents related to the RINs of the rules that were only included in the Fall 2016 agenda in order to track the progress of those rules and categorize them for the purposes of this chart.

We also compared the RINs in both agendas to those included in a supplement to the Spring 2017 regulatory agenda detailing what the administration refers to as "Inactive RINs." These inactive RINs represent rules with which federal agencies do not intend to move forward.

Finally, we compared the rules that are only included in the Fall 2016 agenda with rules withdrawn while under review at the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs between January 20, 2017 and July 25, 2017.

Items in pink are continued rules: rules whose RINs are listed in both the Fall 2016 and Spring 2017 regulatory agendas.

Items in green are abandoned rules: proposed rules that have RINs listed in the Fall 2016 regulatory agenda, but not the Spring 2017 regulatory agenda. As a result, the Trump Administration appears to have abandoned them.

Items in yellow are final rules: rules listed only in the Fall 2016 regulatory agenda, and were eventually published in the Federal Register. Some of these rules have effective dates before the Trump Administration began on January 20, 2017, and some have effective dates after January 20, 2017. Additionally, some of these rules have been subject to delays of their effective dates. Our in-depth analysis of rules delayed during the Trump Administration can be found at the Center for Progressive Reform. <http://www.progressivereform.org/CPRBlog.cfm?idBlog=5E9BD29E-BB56-0EE5-E28F45390F3A063B>

Items in orange are new rules: new initiatives by the Trump administration that have RINs listed only in the Spring 2017 regulatory agenda.
